Direct Services

TPN provided services to 930 survivors of abuse and families in transition.

Services include peer counseling, support groups, shelter, court advocacy, accompaniment, information and referrals, and the crisis and support line. For more information about direct services, see Grace—A Survivor's Story on page 2.

Bystander Action Group

Students at Richards Elementary School in Newport participated in a 5 week lunch group, culminating with a student-designed bulletin board.

Community Education Program

Reaching the Next Generation With Programs Focusing on Respect and Empathy

In addition to our Direct Services, TPN remains committed to our Community Education Program, despite financial cut-backs. Here, we spotlight our work in local schools.

Cyberbullying and Relational/ Social Aggression. News reports of student suicides remind us how important it is to teach youth about respect and civility. Connect With Respect focuses on empathy, bystander action and strengthening school climates.

Healthy Relationships. TPN assists students in identifying both healthy and unhealthy qualities in dating relationships. The goal is to help teens build healthy, positive relationships.

Child Sexual Abuse. In the last year, national headlines have been filled with stories about child sexual abuse. TPN works with schools and community groups to provide body safety education (read more inside).
